

After death the people will be resurrected, and the proof is His saying, He the Most High:

From the Earth We created you, (O Mankind), and to it We shall return you and from it We shall raise you to life yet again.¹

The Shaykh Saalih al Fawzaan hafidhahullaah mentions in his explanation:

Q1. That rejecting the idea that everyone will die is something:

- a) which only the staunchest atheist will do
- b) only the person of strongest eemaan will do
- c) that no one does
- d) that all of us will do at some point

Q2. That the events occurring after death include:

- a) the returning of the souls to their bodies
- b) the journeying of the people from the graves to the mahshar
- c) the resurrection of only those people who are destined for Paradise
- d) the person returning to this worldly life to join his family and friends whom he left

Q3. That believing in the Resurrection after death:

- a) is obligatory if a person wishes to be a person of eemaan
- b) is one of the five pillars of eemaan
- c) is mentioned in the hadeeth of Jibreel
- d) is not necessary if the person testifies to the shahaadatayn

Q4. That this aayah from Soorah TaaHaa tells us that:

- a) Allaah created Adam 'alaihissalaam from the Earth
- b) no one will ever be able to leave Earth
- c) each person returns to being in the Earth each night
- d) we will be raised out of the Earth for the Resurrection

¹ Soorah TaaHaa (20) aayah 55

Also the saying of Allaah, the Most High:
“And Allaah created you from the (dust of) the Earth, then He will cause you to return within the Earth, then He will bring you forth and restore you to life.”²

The Shaykh Saalih al Fawzaan hafidhahullaah mentions in his explanation:

Q1. That the aayah quoted here from Soorah Nooh:

- a) tells us that Allaah created Adam 'alaihissalaam from the Earth
- b) is a proof for the Resurrection
- c) tells us that we will proceed from our graves directly to Paradise or the Fire
- d) tells us that most people live within the Earth

Q2. That bringing the dead back to life:

- a) was something that each prophet could do
- b) is something that Allaah can do
- c) is something that can be done by One who created them in the first place
- d) is something that no one can do

Q3. That the rain that Allaah sends down from the skies:

- a) has no effect on the vegetation upon the Earth
- b) brings life to the barren land, by the permission of Allaah
- c) brings the dead people back to life
- d) can never cause the living to die

Q4. That were there to be no Resurrection after death:

- a) the tyrant and wrongdoer might not face a recompense for their evil
- b) the obedient believer might not receive a reward for his good actions
- c) the creation of Mankind would be something with no purpose
- d) none of the above

Q5. That giving life to that which was dead can be done by:

- a) the one who was sent as the final prophet
- b) the One who created everything in the first place
- c) the One who produces fire from the green tree
- d) all who live in the Heavens and the Earth

² Soorah Nooh (71) aayaat 17 to 18

Q6. That the person who wishes to commit evil:

- a) should do so
- b) should realise that he will be resurrected and taken to account
- c) will not be resurrected
- d) will not be recompensed for this actions